BRAZIL

30.11.2018 The Customs of the Federal Revenue at the port of Santos suppressed an attempt to smuggle 331 kg of cocaine in an export cargo. Customs officers found the consignment of cocaine inside a container intended for shipment to Europe. The cocaine container was discovered as a result of a risk analysis based on specific criteria after being scanned. Drug packages were located between wooden-coated pallets (laminated), the final destination of which was the Grangemouth port in the UK with a stop at the port of Antwerp in Belgium. In addition to cocaine, empty fabric bags were discovered in the container, which were planned to be used by criminals during the collection of the consignment at the destination. <http://idg.receita.fazenda.gov.br/sobre/acoes-e-programas/acoes-da-receita-federal/noticias/2018/novembro/8a-regiao-fiscal/receita-federal-intercepta-carga-de-exportacao-contendo-331-kg-de-cocaina-no-porto-de-santos>

30.11.2018 The Customs of the Federal Revenue Office at Viracopos International Airport in Campinas, state of São Paulo, prevented an attempt to smuggle cocaine in which paper was soaked. In this way of concealment, the criminals tried to obstruct the detection of the drug with the help of X-ray machines. The total weight of the smuggling consignment was 4 kg of cocaine. Customs officers confiscated four batches of cocaine-infused paper, which were sent on cargo flights to the United States, Spain and Italy. Deliveries were made by citizens of Bolivia residing in Brazil. Smuggling shipments were suspected after analyzing declared data and comparing it with other data in the IRS risk management systems. Sheets of paper with text printed on them were examined by experts with the help of chemical reagents that indicated to presence of cocaine. <http://idg.receita.fazenda.gov.br/sobre/acoes-e-programas/acoes-da-receita-federal/noticias/2018/novembro/8a-regiao-fiscal/receita-federal-apreende-cocaina-impregnada-em-folhas-de-papel-em-viracopos>

02.12.2018 In the port of Santos five armed criminals from a speedboat attacked the container ship "CAP SAN MARCO". Two members of the ship crew on watch, were caught by surprise and tied up by criminals. The offenders were aboard for about 45 minutes and then disappeared. The attack was an attempt to load cocaine on board and hide it in containers. After a thorough check on the ship, one broken container without drugs was found. Another container was found behind the broken container, to which the criminals could not access without moving other containers. In this container 402 kg of cocaine were found. Malefactors did not succeed in concealing their consignment of cocaine, as the cocaine container was loaded at the previous port of call, presumably in Paranagua. Cocaine should have been shipped to Europe.
