UNITED KINGDOM

06.08.2019 An international investigation has led to one of the largest seizures of heroin in the United Kingdom. NCA intelligence identified a container ship suspected of transporting a large consignment of drugs on its way to Antwerp, Belgium. The vessel moored in Felixstowe. Border guards and the NCA removed a container in which about 398 kg of heroin were concealed under the cover of many towels and bathrobes. Heroin was seized and the container was returned as part of a “controlled delivery” to the ship that continued to the port of Antwerp. Upon arrival, the container was loaded onto a truck and transported to Rotterdam. On 5 August, when suspects attempted to unload the contents, the Netherlands police arrested the smugglers. The NCA simultaneously arrested a man from Bromsgrove. Street value of the shipment of heroin is estimated at £9 million. The seizure of heroin is a result of a targeted intelligence-led investigation conducted by the NCA with international and British partners. <https://www.nationalcrimeagency.gov.uk/news/40m-heroin-seizure-after-international-operation>
